

Massachusetts Workforce Training Fund

Semi-Annual Report

The Department of Workforce Development welcomes and values employer feedback on the Workforce Training Fund (WTF). This feedback is essential in helping us determine the effectiveness of the WTF program. It also tells us where the program succeeds and where improvements can be made.

Over the years, we have received very positive feedback from employers on the Workforce Training Fund Program. Employers have also shared many success stories about the impact of their training with the help of WTF grants.

This report highlights evaluation outcomes of the Workforce Training Fund's General and Express programs and provides an update on the new Hiring Incentive Training Grant (HITG) program. Also included are testimonials from employers who have used the Workforce Training Fund as a tool to not only upgrade the skills of their workforce, but to also improve their company's competitiveness and productivity.

I also want to take this opportunity to welcome three new Workforce Training Fund Advisory Panel members, Roger Berkowitz, President and CEO, Legal Seafoods; Julie Pinkham, Executive Director of the Massachusetts Nurses Association; and Barbara Rosenbaum, President and CEO of Massachusetts Jewish Vocational Services. Their business acumen, understanding of workforce issues that affect Massachusetts and wise judgment will enhance the already tremendous talent of the Panel.

Sincerely,

Jane C. Edmonds
Director, Department of Workforce Development

Employer Comments:

"Universal Forest Products has been in business for 50 years. We're in business largely because we have a team that is highly trained in the design and manufacture of wooden crates, pallets, roof and floor trusses. Having a well-trained workforce makes all the difference, and we've had success using the Workforce Training Fund to help train our employees. The money received has allowed us to make improvements for our employees within our shop and reclaim some of the training and certification costs associated with each new employee."

"We appreciate the support we've received from the Commonwealth through the Fund. As a result, we've been able to expand our business and add jobs to our local community. We highly recommend that all of our local businesses take advantage of this great program."

Tom Vega,
Director of HR and Safety
Universal Forest Products #221, Belchertown

Profile: Boston Coffee Cake, Haverhill

Boston Coffee Cake Company President Mark Forman offers his take on how the Workforce Training Fund has helped his company grow and advance the careers of his employees.

Boston Coffee Cake has been awarded two Workforce Training Fund grants totaling over $33,000 which has helped provide training for 24 employees. This training has been instrumental in helping the company achieve competitiveness on a national scale.

"I heard about your grant through Northern Essex community College. We wanted to train our existing employees to become managers and supervisors so they could grow with us. Having a skilled workforce is the reason why we are able to compete I on a national basis and keep our costs in line in order to obtain new business. The training helped our employees become better managers and in return has made Boston Coffee Cake company more competitive in our production capability and has led us to being named the Best Tasting Coffee Cake in America 5 years in a row.

The ability to receive training grants is very important. We received another training grant for Inventory Control Management, which has helped in implementing a computer system that has been a great asset to our company. We are looking at another grant for ESL (English as a Second Language) to help employees communicate better in our business.

Many employees who went through the first grant became supervisors and managers, resulting in more pay, which has led them to being able to purchase homes, cars and take vacations for the first time in their lives.

Our employees who have received training through the Workforce Training Fund have benefited greatly. Not only has the company run more efficiently, it also has had an impact on employee turnover. Employees have been rewarded by advancing within our company. Many employees who went through the first grant became supervisors and managers, resulting in more pay, which has led them to being able to purchase homes, cars and take vacations for the first time in their lives. We have continued providing our own training to make an even bigger difference and make Boston Coffee Cake a better place to work."

The training helped our employees become better managers and in return has made the Boston Coffee Cake Company more competitive in our production capability and has led to us being named the Best Tasting Coffee Cake in America for 5 years in a row.

"To compete and stay alive in the aerospace industry, you have to be certified. The Workforce Training Fund grant helped us to get AS9100 certification and to pass audits by our existing customer base."

Peerless Precision, Inc.,
Westfield

*"With the nearly $176,000 awarded to Century Bank from the Massachusetts Workforce Training Fund, we were able to train over 280 of our associates in quality management, coaching for leadership, process improvement and customer service. As a result of the training, we have seen turnover rates reduced by more than 45%, productivity enhanced by an increase in sales referrals, and improved customer service skills enabling us to be even more customer-centric. ## Employer Q&A

Q Why must my business send a Certificate of Good Standing with its grant application?

A A certificate of good standing is now required to serve as proof that a business enterprise receiving funds is on solid financial footing and to verify that there are no outstanding issues with the Massachusetts Department of Revenue—which could potentially impact a recipient's ability to pay for employee training.

Through the receipt of a certificate of good standing, the WTF is able to award training funds in a more timely manner.
